Letter From Our President:

Dr. Rouzana Hares

Dear Friends, Sponsors, and Supporters

I write this today, compelled to express my deepest gratitude for the extraordinary spirit of the generosity you've shown throughout 2022. On behalf of the entire Women For Humanity family, we are truly thankful for the continued support you've provided the students, allowing displaced students and their families the hope and resources for a new beginning and to pursue their dreams.

This past year, we've seen numerous communities face poverty and unforeseen difficulties; but with your outstanding mercy and kindness, we were able to continue to support our students in their educational journeys. Your support has allowed us to expand our programs to high school students and establish one of a kind learning centers for single women in Lebanon.

Thank you for being a strong believer in a better education for all and a champion in our efforts to give people in crisis a second chance.

Rouzana Hares DDS MBA MAGD - President Women For Humanity.

Hear From Our Scholars

“Our community in the last years saw a period of diseases that have led to thousands of deaths, So we must do something helpful for it ,and by this scholarship I start to achieve my goals to help our society, I start to make a Awareness campaigns about chronic diseases and and infectious diseases, then when I ,thanks to you , finish my study I will be a very active person in the community. Thank you.” - JA

“Thank you for your great support, the grant has achieved my dream of helping people, especially since there is a huge shortage of medical staff in my country, Syria, we need a large number of nurses and doctors to help people Because of the war. I hope that the scholarship will continue because we are living in bad conditions in Lebanon now. “ - AB

"The moment you give up,you will destroy yourself, so do your best to reach and goals " Believing in these words. When I got your scholarship , I started to continue to reach my goal that I wished for from my childhood, which was always interrupted for financial and other reasons. Thank you very much for helping us to complete our goal.” - MB

Students Meeting in Jordan

The recent meeting with all current students was an excellent opportunity to provide a platform for students to voice their feedback and insights about their progress and learning experiences. This feedback is vital to improve the quality of education and ensure that the student's needs are being met. Additionally, hearing from recent graduates about their path to success and their job-seeking journey is beneficial for current students as it provides them with valuable information and tips that can help them in their careers. Overall, such meetings play a crucial role in fostering a supportive and collaborative learning environment and creating a strong sense of community among students and alumni.
